

ASSEMBLY- NEEV1 D

GURUNANAK JAYANTI

The entire Aadhar was echoing with the mantra of 'Ek Omkar Satnam' or 'One God' as the innocent voices of the tiny tots sang it...the little ones dressed as Guru Nanak and other members of the Sikh community, all in vibrant colours performed the 'Prabhat pheri' (the early morning religious procession to the Gurudwara) around the assembly. It was a perfect start to the occasion.

The children enacted an incident from the childhood of Guru Nanak and delivered his preaching of God is one and helping people irrespective of their caste and creed. The importance of langar where food is served free to all the visitors in gurudwaras was highlighted to inculcate the habit of sharing among the children.

All the children in the assembly chanted hymns in chorus along with the children on the stage. The entire assembly area boomed with their chanting. Then the Punjabi Mundas and Punjabi Kudis gave a beautiful dance performance on a Punjabi song
