Bhopal: The Sanskaar Valley School conducted its annual graduation ceremony for the outgoing batch of 2017. Bhopal collector Nishant Warwade was the chief guest. Other dignitaries present were director Jyoti Agarwal, principal Amlan K Saha and head of Shikhar, Dilip K Panda, besides heads of all blocks, and parents.

Graduation ceremony organised with much fanfare

The students gathered in the amphitheatre, Kalanjali, for an official photograph with the chief guest and other guests. They were then accorded a formal welcome followed by lighting of the lamp by the students of class XII and singing of the school song. A welcome speech was given by the principal to motivate the students to do well in their lives. The students were then called on stage one by one to be presented with an Angavastram and a plaque. Dilip K Panda spoke about each student of the batch of 2017. Some students were also awarded the school colour for their contribution and excellence in various fields.
