

Admission counselling by Trinity College

The school organised an admission and career counselling session for the students of Classes 11 and 12 where the resource person was Nilanjana Shihh, the country advisor from Trinity College Dublin, the University of Dublin, Ireland. The aim was to help students understand the Irish education system, admission process and career prospects. The institute has given the world Nobel prize winners, presidents and leaders. The resource person opened a world of opportunities for the students and asked them to be adaptive, flexible and innovative. She took
